On May 9, 1980, one of the most stunning tragedies in maritime history occurred when the M/V Summit Venture, a massive 608' bulk freighter, collided with the Sunshine Skyway Bridge. More than 1,200 feet of the giant structure crumbled into the waters of Tampa Bay and 35 people plunged to their deaths. See the documentary with in-person narration from one of the divers on the scene, Robert Raiola.
